

Why "form a line" when you can "tow a line"?

I don't believe my sargent knows I am going to visit this fine vessel sir.

Can I wave to my regiment from the deck?

You'll have a fine view lad I assure you!

I brought my "little cat" for our entertainment.

Archie, I fear these men have other plans

Are you looking for more out of your living history experience? Soldiers fought the battles but it was the navy that won the wars. Captain Fisher and the crew of the Richmond invite you to consider the Royal Navy for your next impression. The Richmond is a "virtual ship" with a nationwide crew exploring the art and science of 18th century sail. Its our mission to examine the Royal Navy at it's height, during the age of enlightenment. The Richmond's activities list range from a battle recreation to a display on the skill of the common seaman. Isn't it time for you to sign on?

Explore with us.

Visit us at our website at www.hmsrichmond.org and learn more...lest you experience the "Cat" from the pressmaster!

Capt. Craig Fisher
419-882-5841 (evenings)

GOD save the KING
Prize Money Awaits!
Tired of foot soldiering?
Do you long to experience
the 18th century naval life?

Join the crew of the Frigate Richmond. We are looking for the serious living history enthusiast to experience the age of sail.

No experience necessary.
Simply a desire to learn a craft,
sing a shanty, and occasionally,
Man the cannons!

ROYAL NAVY

The Richmond is a virtual ship, but our steadfast dedication to authenticity and our approach to on-line development of your "impression" is unique to a national living history organization.

Visit us at...

www.hmsrichmond.org

or call evenings at 419-882-5841.

